

TRICK OR READ

Don't miss the political science student and young professional networking event of the season!

Tuesday, October 27
11:30 a.m. – 7 p.m.

Expand your professional library with complimentary books on politics, history and more!

Hosted by the American Political Science Association
1527 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036
(A block from the Dupont Circle Metro Q Street Exit)

Trick-or-Read is a networking event for political science undergraduate students, graduate students, and young professionals. Come by and start your professional library by selecting free books from the APSA collection. Includes books on politics, international relations, history, elections, and more! Take advantage of a ONE DAY ONLY special APSA membership discount (valid student identification required).

This annual event features:

- A variety of complimentary books from the APSA library and the APSA award nomination books
- 50% off one-year memberships for students and young professionals
  - Membership includes:
    - Access to APSA journals
    - Access to eJobs – APSA's job board
    - Discounted rates at all APSA conferences
- The opportunity to network with other political scientists and students from nearby institutions
- A chance to meet with APSA political scientists about the profession and receive career tips
- Festive refreshments

For more information on APSA, visit www.apsanet.org.

