AUGUST 29 – SEPTEMBER 1
WASHINGTON, DC

POPULISM AND PRIVILEGE

Peace wins her way not by force;
her appeal is to the reason and the conscience of man.

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to Washington, DC, for the American Political Science Association's 115th Annual Meeting and Exhibition!

The 2019 theme is Populism and Privilege. In the call for proposals we invited you to reflect on a phenomenon that has affected countries around the world, disrupting familiar categories and reorganizing traditional politics. You have answered that call with enthusiasm, creativity, and with scholarship that confronts a wide range of topics related to this theme. This year's program features panels on a host of challenges linked to populist mobilization: the migration crises, the impact of global capitalism; the dynamics of polarization, among other important areas of inquiry. Other panels deal with the so-called dichotomy between the "people" on one side and the "elite" on the other. Still others question whether this is a new phenomenon at all, or a repackaging of older political traditions that have sought to mobilize these categories of contention. The focus is both local and global, examining how this phenomenon has taken root on either side of the Atlantic, as well Latin America, the Middle East, South Asia, and other locales.

The position of populism vis-à-vis democratic politics is the principal focal point in this year's program. We hope the ensuing exchanges will advance both scholarly understanding and opportunities for engagement around this strained relationship. Though contested terrain, populism is often said to be a threat to democracy, even though it originated (at least in the American context) as a vehicle to expand its application. But if populism is the problem, what is the solution? How do we confront the demands that fuel these often resentful movements? If democracy (as we know it) is worth preservation, how can we, as scholars and citizens, work together to understand what entices "the people" to prefer leaders who have taken to illiberal means to achieve their ends? We are motivated in this quest by a sense of urgency and responsibility and hope you will join us in working to interrogate these questions.

Several theme panels and breaking news panels that focus on populism and privilege can be found on page 25. The Breaking News Panels will focus on "Immigration and the Realignment of European Politics," "Trump, Constitutional Crisis and American Democracy," and "Bolsonaro and the Challenges to Democratic Rights and Academic Freedom." Additionally, Nancy MacLean, from Duke University will speak in the plenary session on "The Campus Origins of Today's Radical Right and the Crisis of American Democracy," on Friday at noon in Marriott Salon 3.

We also encourage you to attend APSA President Rogers Smith's Presidential Address, "What Good Could Political Science Do? From Pluralism to Partnerships" on Thursday at 6:15 p.m. in Marriott Salon 3. This will be followed by the APSA Opening Reception at 7:30 p.m. There will also be several sessions devoted to the work of the Presidential Task Force on New Partnerships focusing on Civic Engagement, Congressional Reform, and Teaching and Learning. More information can be found on page 32.

In addition, we highlight two areas of special programming for this year's annual meeting. The first is a special series on "Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: Shared Commitments, Institutional Challenges." This is a series of panels taking place throughout the day on Friday, ending with a presidential plenary panel on the status of the discipline. The day will combine sessions focused on practical strategies and tactics as well as those engaging in broader reflections on the challenges of promoting a diverse discipline. You can find the full schedule on page 26 along with other featured theme panels.

The second area of special programming will be a film series running throughout conference, featuring four films with special relevance for the program themes: Searching for Andreas; What is Democracy; Living Thinkers; and Knock Down the House. Each screening will be followed by a panel discussion with the film maker and several scholars in related fields. You can find more information about the films on page 28.

The Teaching and Learning Conference (TLC) at APSA will also return for its second year, taking place on Saturday in the Marriott Thurgood Marshall rooms and the Madison rooms from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Finally, be sure to stop by the APSA Exhibit Hall in the Marriott Exhibit Hall C and B South to meet with exhibitors, visit the APSA Lounge, and view iPosters on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

We are very grateful to the division chairs for their hard work in putting together an excellent program. We hope you enjoy the meeting!

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

APSA has received notice from several sources that graduate students and faculty have experienced sexual harassment at various conference venues. APSA consequently reminds everyone:

The APSA Annual Meeting is convened for the purposes of professional development and scholarly and educational interchange in the spirit of free inquiry and free expression. Harassment of colleagues, students, or other conference participants undermines the principle of equity at the heart of these professional fora and is inconsistent with the principles of free inquiry and free expression. Consequently, harassment is considered by APSA to be a serious form of professional misconduct.

The following Anti-Harassment Policy outlines expectations for all those who attend or participate in APSA meetings. It reminds APSA meeting participants that all professional academic ethics and norms apply as standards of behavior and interaction at these meetings.

1. Purpose

APSA is committed to providing a safe and welcoming conference environment for all participants, regardless of actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, ability, socioeconomic status, age, or religion.

"Participant" in this policy refers to anyone present at APSA meetings, including staff, contractors, vendors, exhibitors, venue staff, APSA members, and all other attendees.

2. Expected Behavior

All participants at APSA meetings are expected to abide by this Anti-Harassment Policy in all meeting venues including ancillary events and official and unofficial social gatherings.

- Abide by the norms of professional respect that are necessary to promote the conditions for free academic interchange.
- If you witness potential harm to a conference participant, be proactive in helping to mitigate or avoid that harm.
- Alert conference or security personnel if you see a situation in which someone might be in imminent physical danger.

3. Unacceptable Behavior

Unacceptable behaviors include:

- persistent and unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy
- persistent and unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy accompanied by real or implied threat of professional harm
- intimidating, harassing, abusive, derogatory or demeaning speech or actions by any participant in an APSA meeting and/or at any related event
- prejudicial actions or comments related to actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, ability, socioeconomic status, age, or religion that coerce others, foment broad hostility, or otherwise undermine professional equity or the principles of free academic exchange
- deliberate intimidation, stalking or following
- harassing photography or recording
- sustained disruption of talks or other events
- physical assault (including unwelcome touch or groping)
- real or implied threat of physical harm

The APSA Ombuds is available for consultation with any annual meeting or TLC at APSA attendees who believes that they have experienced any form of harassment, or have concerns about violations of the sexual harassment provisions of the APSA anti-harassment policy while onsite at the 2019 annual meeting. For information on contacting the APSA Ombuds, please email apsaombuds@gmail.com or visit www.apsanet.org/ombuds.

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 12,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing four distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, PS: Political Science & Politics, and the Journal of Political Science Education.

Panel Attendance: Study of Patterns

Notice of a study of patterns in panel attendance at the upcoming Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C. (August 29 – 31, 2019)

At the upcoming Annual Meeting of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C. (August 29 – 31, 2019), you may be invited to participate in a study of patterns in panel attendance entitled, "Patterns of Panel Attendance at Academic Conferences." At the entrance to a selection of panels at our annual meeting, RAs will offer you a short survey to respond to, and they will take a head count of panel attendees.

You are free to opt out of the study by declining to take and/or fill out a survey. Deciding not to take part, or to stop being a part, of this research will result in no penalty, fine or loss of benefits that you otherwise have a right to.

What to expect?

Participation in this study consists of responding to a short survey. This survey requests no identifying information.

Risk and benefits

Participation in this study poses no more than minimal risk. You will not benefit directly from participation, though the study may generate new knowledge that may benefit the professional community of which you are a member. There is no compensation for participating.

Confidentiality and "the right to be forgotten" (European Union General Data Protection Regulation):

No identifying personal information will be part of the dataset that we analyze. The information collected will be kept confidential as much as is permitted by law. Because the data we are collecting are not personally identified, it is not possible for us to remove your survey responses from the dataset.

This study has been approved by Clarkson University's Institutional Review Board for Human Subjects Research, #19-04.1. To file a complaint or make an inquiry about the use or protection of your data, contact the Clarkson University IRB during their business hours of 8:30-4:30: irb@clarkson.edu (email) or 315-268-3764 (phone).

If you have any questions about this research, you may contact any of the co-PIs: Jennifer Piscopo, Occidental College, piscopo@oxy.edu; Christina Xydias, Clarkson University, christinaxydias@gmail.com; Amy Atchison, Valparaiso University, amy.atchison@valpo.edu; Malliga Och, Idaho State University, ochmall@isu.edu. The researchers have no financial interest in performing this study.

RESTAURANTS AND ATTRACTIONS

THE LINE

A Rake's Progress

James Beard Award-winning chef Spike Gjerde cooks what he sources from Mid-Atlantic farms and waters. For the last decade at his Baltimore restaurant Woodberry Kitchen, Spike has been a learner and a teacher of the terroir of the region — only using ingredients found within his food system. Now in DC, he cooks from an expanded landscape, with a flavor all its own.

Monday – Thursday: 6:00 p.m. – 11:00 p.m.

Friday: 6:00 p.m. – 12:00 a.m.

Saturday: 11:00 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.;

6:00 p.m. – 12:00 a.m.

Sunday: 11:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.; 5:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

Brothers and Sisters

Enjoy a menu that rebels against the culinary traditions of our past while embracing the evolution of our multicultural identity. Erik Bruner-Yang has created this concept with his talented team, helmed by Todd Thrasher and Pichet Ong.

Open daily, 6:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.;

11:30 a.m. – 12:00 a.m.

Spoken English

Tachinomiya-style neighborhood space located within the LINE DC. This standing-room only restaurant welcomes open-minded patrons willing to engage in new interactions with neighbors, strangers, and friends alike. Spoken English brings back the lost art of conversation in a fast-paced city. Serving exclusive sake selections alongside classic and street style dishes from Asia until late night. Kitchen helmed by Matthew Crowley.

Open Tuesday to Saturday, 6:00 p.m. – 12:00 a.m.

The Cup We All Race 4

The Cup We All Race 4 is an energetic hub centered around quality coffee and delicious, straightforward food. Counter Culture Coffee is served alongside a menu by Spike Gjerde, including sandwich breads, savorys and whole-grain pastries baked on-site daily by pastry chef Amanda Cook.

Open daily, 7:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.

FILM SERIES HIGHLIGHT

Theme Panel Film Series

The program chairs will be hosting a film series. The films were selected based on their relevance to the program theme. Each screening will be followed by a panel discussion. All film screenings and discussions will take place in Marriott, Salon 2.

Knock Down The House

Rachel Lears

When tragedy struck her family in the midst of the financial crisis, Bronx-born Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez had to work double shifts in a restaurant to save her home from foreclosure. After losing a loved one to a preventable medical condition, Amy Vilela didn't know what to do with the anger she felt about America's broken health care system. Cori Bush was drawn into the streets when the police shooting of an unarmed black man brought protests and tanks into her neighborhood. Paula Jean Swearengen was fed up with watching her friends and family suffer and die from the environmental effects of the coal industry.

At a moment of historic volatility in American politics, these four women decide to fight back, setting themselves on a journey that will change their lives and their country forever. Without political experience or corporate money, they build a movement of insurgent candidates challenging powerful incumbents in Congress. Their efforts result in a legendary upset.

Searching for Andreas

Harris Mylonas

The documentary Searching for Andreas is an independent production about the pitfalls of charismatic leadership and the limits of democratic politics under the pressures of economic globalization. Charismatic leaders often build personalistic parties and undermine political institutions, while their succession is fraught with difficulties. Searching for Andreas explores peoples' reliance on such leaders. It examines the life and legacy of one of Europe's most controversial leaders, Andreas Papandreu. Was he a socialist reformer or a populist manipulator? Regardless of what one believes about Andreas' politics, Greece won't emerge from the crisis until it confronts his legacy.

FILM SERIES HIGHLIGHT

What Is Democracy?

Astra Taylor

Coming at a moment of profound political and social crisis, What Is Democracy? reflects on a word we too often take for granted. Director Astra Taylor's idiosyncratic, philosophical journey spans millennia and continents: from ancient Athens' groundbreaking experiment in self-government to capitalism's roots in medieval Italy; from modern-day Greece grappling with financial collapse and a mounting refugee crisis to the United States reckoning with its racist past and the growing gap between rich and poor. Featuring a diverse cast—including celebrated theorists, trauma surgeons, activists, factory workers, asylum seekers, and former prime ministers—this urgent film connects the past and the present, the emotional and the intellectual, the personal and the political, in order to provoke and inspire. If we want to live in democracy, we must first ask what the word even means.

Friday, August 30, 2:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Living Thinkers: An Autobiography of Black Women In The Ivory Tower

Roxana Walker-Canton

This film examines the intersection of race, class and gender for Black women professors and administrators working in U.S. colleges and universities today. Through their diverse narratives, from girlhood to the present, Black women from different disciplines share experiences that have shaped them, including segregated schooling as children, and the trials, disappointments and triumphs encountered in Academia. Though more than 100 years have passed since the doors to higher education opened for Black women, their numbers as faculty members are woefully low and for many still, the image of Black women as intellectuals is incomprehensible. And while overtly expressed racism, sexism and discrimination have declined, their presence is often still often unacknowledged. Through frank and sometimes humorous conversations, this documentary interrogates notions of education for girls and women and the stereotypes and traditions that affect the status of Black women both in and out of the Academy.

Saturday, August 31, 2:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Film Panel Discussion:

Niambi Carter, Howard University
Pearl Dowe, Oxford College, Emory University
Andra Gillespie, Emory University

APSA Congressional Fellowship Program

The APSA Congressional Fellowship Program is a highly selective, nonpartisan program devoted to expanding knowledge and awareness of Congress. Since 1953, it has brought select scholars to Capitol Hill to experience Congress through fellowship placements on congressional staffs. Fellows begin their fellowship year with a comprehensive four-week orientation with congressional experts and policy leaders. Fellows then serve full-time assignments as legislative aides in the House of Representatives or Senate.

The fellowship year also features:

- Winter and spring seminar series on Congress;
- Visit to the district or state of a Member of Congress;
- Optional programs in Annapolis, Maryland, and Ottawa, Canada

QUALIFICATIONS:

Applications are welcome from political scientists who have completed a PhD in the last 15 years or will have defended a dissertation in political science by November of the fellowship year.

The program is open to scholars in all subfields within political science who can show a scholarly interest in Congress and policymaking.

FELLOWSHIP YEAR:

Orientation begins in November 2020. Office placements run until August 15, 2021. Candidates may apply for two optional programs—a research fellowship and a course on Congress and foreign policy—that run from September to October 2020.

STIPEND:

$52,500 for the 9.5-month fellowship period, plus a travel allowance.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

The application period opens in September 2019. Applications must be submitted online and include:

- a detailed CV
- 500-word personal statement;
- the names and contact information for three references
- a writing sample

2019 APSA ANNUAL MEETING

AUGUST 29 — SEPTEMBER 1
WASHINGTON, DC

#APSA2019

Meet the 2019 Annual Meeting Ombuds

The APSA Ombuds will be available during the 2019 APSA Annual Meeting in Washington, DC, to speak with any meeting attendee on a variety of topics including, but not limited to, consultation with any meeting attendees who believe that they have experienced any form of harassment, or have concerns about violations of the sexual harassment provisions of the APSA anti-harassment policy while onsite at the 2019 annual meeting. More information about the APSA Ombuds is located online at www.apsanet.org/ombuds. To contact the ombuds, email apsaombuds@gmail.com.

The role of the APSA Meetings Ombuds is to:

- confidentially hear and discuss your concerns with you
- provide you with valuable guidance and resources for understanding what constitutes sexual harassment and other forms of harassment
- provide information on, and help explain, options for reporting sexual harassment to APSA,
- outline other avenues and information for pursuing such a complaint
- offer support and guidance even if you elect to pursue no complaint procedures or reporting whatsoever

Carol Mershon, University of Virginia

Carol Mershon, Ph.D., is the Hugh S. and Winifred Cumming Chair in Politics at the University of Virginia. Mershon has served as Interim Co-PI / Program Director for UVA CHARGE, the NSF ADVANCE program at UVA, and continues to serve on the UVA CHARGE Internal Advisory Board. A member of the Steering Committee of the Directors of Diversity and Inclusion in UVA Arts & Sciences, Mershon helped spearhead the creation of the pilot UVA Arts & Sciences Faculty Guides program, designed to handle concerns about, e.g., harassment, conflicts of interest, and equity.

David Rasch, University of California, Santa Barbara

David Rasch is the Associate Ombuds at UCSB. David received his BA in Philosophy from Colgate University, and a PhD in Counseling Psychology from the California Institute of Integral Studies. He recently retired from Stanford University where he served as University Ombuds for 14 years, and now lives in Ojai. Prior to his work as ombuds, he was Director of Stanford's Faculty/Staff Counseling Center. David is on the Board of Directors for CO-OP, which oversees the testing and certification process for the organizational ombuds profession. In addition to his ombuds work, David also consults and teaches on topics related to writing productivity.

APSA Diversity & Inclusion Programs

The American Political Science Association (APSA) has several major programs aimed at enhancing diversity within the discipline and identifying and aiding students and faculty from under-represented backgrounds in the political science field. These programs include:

Ralph Bunche Summer Institute (RBSI) (Undergraduate Juniors)

The RBSI Program is an annual, intensive five-week program held at Duke University. It is designed to introduce to the world of doctoral study in political science those undergraduate students from under-represented racial and ethnic groups or those interested in broadening participation in political science and pursuing scholarship on issues affecting underrepresented groups or issues of tribal sovereignty and governance. Application deadline: January of each year. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/rbsi.

APSA Minority Fellows Program (MFP) (Undergraduate Seniors or MA and PhD students)

(Fall Cycle for seniors and MA Students, Spring Cycle for PhD students) MFP is a fellowship competition for individuals from underrepresented backgrounds applying to or in the early stages of doctoral programs in political science, designed to increase the number of individuals from under-represented backgrounds with PhD's in political science. Application deadline: October and March of each year. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/mfp.

Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP) (Undergraduates and Departmental members)

The MSRP was created to identify undergraduate students from under-represented backgrounds who are interested in, or show potential for, graduate study and, ultimately, to help further diversify the political science profession. For more information, visit www.apsanet.org/msrp.

APSA Mentoring Program

The Mentoring Program connects undergraduate, graduate students, and junior faculty to experienced and senior members of the profession for professional development mentoring. APSA membership is required for mentors. APSA staff makes mentor matches twice a year: once at the beginning of the fall semester and once at the beginning of the spring semester. To request a mentor or be a mentor, visit www.apsanet.org/mentor.

APSA Status Committees

APSA Status Committees develop and promote agendas and activities concerning the professional development and current status of under-represented communities within the political science discipline. For a listing of all APSA status committees, visit www.apsanet.org/status-committees.

For more information on all Diversity and Inclusion Programs and to read the APSA Diversity and Inclusion Report, visit us online at www.apsanet.org/diversityprograms. Please contact Kimberly Mealy, PhD, Senior Director of Diversity and Inclusion Programs with any questions diversityprograms@apsanet.org.

To contribute to an APSA Fund, such as the Ralph Bunche Endowment Fund, visit us at www.apsanet.org/bunchefund, or the Hanes Walton Jr. Fund, visit www.apsanet.org/donate.

Find a Mentor or Become a Mentor

The APSA Mentoring Program is an opportunity for all political scientists to network and share experience, advice and insights about career planning, scholarship, and a variety of professional issues such as:

- Selecting a dissertation committee
- Publishing and research
- Non-academic careers
- Life as junior faculty member
- Balancing family and work

APSA seeks mentors that provide professional advice to undergraduates, graduate students, and junior faculty in the profession, specifically in non-academic careers and international relations, and to mentor Ralph Bunche Scholars (RBSI) and/or APSA Minority Fellows (MFP).

Matching Process

APSA accepts mentor requests for short-term (one semester) and long-term (one academic year) mentoring. Matched mentors and mentees are encouraged to continue the relationship beyond the official APSA mentoring period if they find it mutually beneficial.

The APSA staff makes mentor matches twice a year: once at the beginning of the fall semester (for short term and long term matches) and once at the beginning of the spring semester (for short term matches). Matches are made on a first-come, first-served based on suitability of the match profile and mentor availability.

Apply today! Submit an online application to become or request a mentor at www.apsanet.org/mentor.

Congratulations to the 2019 APSA Ralph Bunche Summer Institute Scholars

Named in honor of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize winner, former APSA President, and the first African American to receive a PhD in political science, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the RBSI encourages students to pursue academic careers in political science. During the program, RBSI Scholars take graduate level political science and methods courses and engage in original research, culminating in a research paper and poster presentation at the APSA Annual Meeting. To date, there are over 500 RBSI Alumni, many of whom are on faculty at colleges and universities across the country. Now in its 33rd year, the RBSI program is held at Duke University, under the direction of Dr. Paula D. McClain.

Dr. McClain has been awarded a $462,000 grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF) to support the 2019-2021 APSA Ralph Bunche Summer Institute. This is the eighth NSF grant that Dr. McClain has received to support the RBSI program. The program is also supported by Duke University's Office of the Provost, the political science department and the American Political Science Association (APSA).

To learn more about the 2019 APSA RBSI Scholars, visit us online at www.apsanet.org/rbsi.

Support the Study of Political Science

Dr. Cathy Wineinger is one of the many political scientists who benefited from donations to APSA in the past year.

As a PhD candidate interested in women and politics, Cathy was able to present her work at the 2018 APSA Annual Meeting and participate in the 2018 Pre-Conference for Latino Politics Workshop with travel support from the Fund for Latino Scholarship administered by the APSA Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs.

She recently earned her PhD from Rutgers University and will join the 2019–2020 APSA Congressional Fellowship class this fall in Washington, DC.

Dr. Cathy Wineinger

Western Washington University

Support for APSA translates into untold numbers of unique opportunities for scholars. Your generosity helps encourage the next generation, uncover new research findings, and strengthen the global political science community.

“APSA has been instrumental in my professional development, and I’m thankful for the programs and opportunities available to scholars at every stage of our careers.”

Almost every APSA award and many programs are funded directly by the generosity of members and friends of the Association.

To contribute to the causes at APSA you are passionate about, visit www.apsanet.org/donate or email development@apsanet.org.

DID YOU KNOW THAT APSA FUNDS RESEARCH?

Join the APSA Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP)

Become a 2019-2020 APSA MSRP Recruiting Department

The APSA Minority Student Recruitment Program (MSRP) advances the benefits of diversity within the political science profession. The program connects undergraduate students from under-represented backgrounds interested in graduate study with MSRP recruiting departments.

MSRP Departmental Benefits

- Access to the MSRP Recruiting Departments listserv
- Access to the MSRP database to recruit undergraduates to your PhD program
- A link to your PhD program on the APSA website and sent to MSRP students
- Participation in the MSRP Best Practices meeting

Enroll Students in the MSRP Database

Faculty are also invited to submit student names and contact information to the Minority Student Recruitment database. Or students may enroll themselves or ask their undergraduate advisor to sponsor them.

Contact diversityprograms@apsanet.org for more information. To enroll your PhD department or to submit student names, visit www.apsanet.org/msrp.

Respectful Equitable

Ethical Conduct Towards All

THE RESPECT CAMPAIGN encourages “professional respect” by and towards all APSA annual meeting attendees and participants at all times. Respect stands for Respectful, Equitable, Safe, Professional, and Ethical Conduct Towards All. The APSA Sexual Harassment Survey Report and Anti-Harassment Policy (code of conduct) address the importance of facilitating a climate of respect at the annual meeting. The presence of APSA resources like the meetings Ombuds and the onsite Bystander Intervention training also embody this message.

CONFERENCE

Join us for the 16th American Political Science Association (APSA) Teaching & Learning Conference (TLC). The conference will take place February 7-9, 2020 in Albuquerque, New Mexico, to explore the conference theme, "Teaching to Empower Students." As students encounter an often tumultuous reality that includes an evolving academy, uncertain job markets, and an increasingly contentious political sphere, how can we empower them to thrive in their educational and individual pursuits and ensure that they are prepared to solve tomorrow's problems?

Cambridge University Press is proud to partner with the American Political Science Association

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY School of Public Affairs

Celebrating 85 Years

American University School of Public Affairs was established as part of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's New Deal. From FDR's vision for "practical contacts between the collegiate and educational world, and the operations of government," the School of Public Affairs at American University was born. For 85 years, SPA has been the home of some of the world's top public affairs scholars and experts.

American University is ranked #1 for politically active students.
(Princeton Review, 2018)

#14

SPA is ranked #14 overall, among 285 public affairs schools by U.S. News & World Report's 2020 graduate school rankings.

Congratulations to SPA Professor Jan Leighley, recipient of the 2019 APSA Frank J. Goodnow Award.

Welcome to Andrew Flores, who will join SPA in fall 2019 as Assistant Professor.

One Nation, Two Realities

SPA Professor David Barker's new book, One Nation, Two Realities: Dueling Facts in American Democracy, presents new survey research to explain what is fueling misinformation on both sides of the political spectrum and the consequences it has for society.

Data Preservation Alliance

AU School of Public Affairs and its Data Science Center, led by Distinguished Professor Jeff Gill, were recently selected to join the Data Preservation Alliance for the Social Sciences (Data-PASS). The mission of Data-PASS is to make data more readily available and encourage journals to improve archiving, replication, and transparency.

Program on Legislative Negotiation

SPA and the Washington College of Law recently launched The Program on Legislative Negotiation, a new initiative that addresses the gridlock in Congress and in state legislatures, so that legislative bodies can better respond to today's challenges and improve public trust in these institutions. It's supported by a $1 million grant from The William and Flora Hewlett Foundation.

Sine Institute of Policy & Politics

SPA is the home of the Sine Institute of Policy & Politics, established by a $10 million gift from Jeff and Samira Sine. The institute is bringing together cross-sectoral experts to develop effective solutions to complex policy issues. The Sine Institute recently welcomed new Executive Director Amy Dacey, a renowned leader in policy, politics, and civics education.

Center for International and Regional Studies

ABOUT CIRS

The Center for International and Regional Studies (CIRS) at Georgetown University in Qatar is a premier research institute devoted to the academic study of regional and international issues through dialogue and exchange of ideas, research and scholarship, and engagement with scholars, opinion makers, practitioners, and activists.

A SELECTION OF CIRS RESEARCH

Sports, Society, and the State in the Middle East

This study examines how sports have served as vehicles and venues for political expression and engagement, economic development, national identity creation and assertion, as well as regional and international relations.

Informal Politics in the Middle East

Investigating the historical roots of informal networks in the Middle East, this project examines their capacity as an alternative setting for political engagement, and the continuities and discontinuities in the relationship between informal actors and the state in the region.

Middle Powers in the Middle East

This initiative explores the conception of middle powers in the context of the Middle East, by studying the varying levels of material power, behavioral aspects, and ideational characteristics of six regional middle powers, namely Turkey, Iran, Egypt, Algeria, Israel, and Saudi Arabia, as well as other aspiring middle powers, such as Qatar and the UAE.

The GCC Crisis: Qatar and its Neighbors

In June 2017, Saudi Arabia, the UAE, Egypt, and Bahrain severed diplomatic ties with Qatar and imposed a land, maritime, and airspace blockade, alleging that Qatar was acting to destabilize the region—a claim the country has rejected. CIRS launched a research initiative to examine the social, political, and economic consequences of the ongoing crisis.

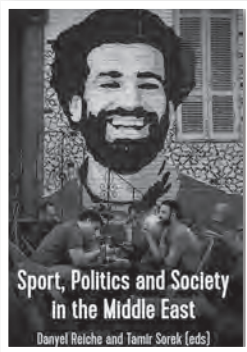

Russia and the Middle East

This initiative examines the drivers behind Russia's increasingly proactive and consequential strategic involvement in the Middle East, and regional interests in cooperating with Russia after the 2011 Arab uprisings, particularly in trade and security.

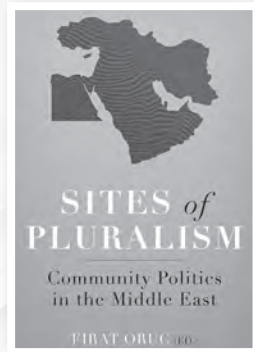

Political Economy of the Contemporary Middle East

Building on CIRS's previous works on the political economy of the Persian Gulf, this research examines the resource curse theory and state building, and analyzes dynamics affecting the political economies of Middle Eastern states after the 2011 uprisings.

"A series from Columbia University that aims to give fresh views of global issues in just a few hours' reading."—Financial Times

"In November [2016], the fate of the Republic will turn on one question:

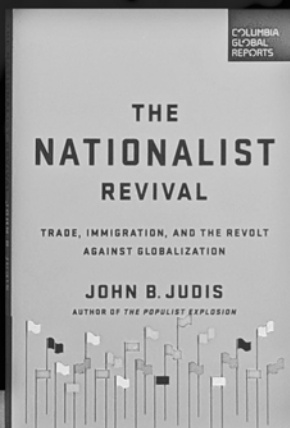

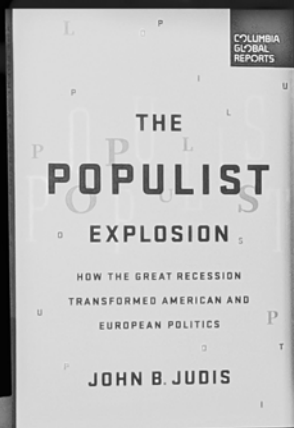

How popular is the populism of Donald Trump?... The Populist Explosion is a cogent and exceptionally clarifying guide to a political phenomenon that is at once elusive and, yes, explosive."—The New York Times Book Review

"Well-written and well-researched, powerfully argued and perfectly timed."—The Economist

"[Judis] does not see a death-match between imperial liberalism on the one hand and nationalism on the other. His book argues that elites have overreached, both in the U.S. and in Europe" —Jason Willick, The Wall Street Journal

"John Judis has a problem with the problem liberals have with nationalism. This dynamic—or dialectic, if you prefer—makes Judis' latest book, The Nationalist Revival, essential reading." —E.J. Dionne, The American Prospect

"The longtime political journalist limns the rise of Trumpian nationalism in the face of a bewilderingly global world."—Kirkus Reviews

Journal of Health Politics, Policy and Law

A key forum for the scholarly analysis of health policy and politics

Jonathan Oberlander, editor

A leading journal in its field, and the primary source of communication across the many disciplines it serves, the Journal of Health Politics, Policy and Law focuses on the initiation, formulation, and implementation of health policy and analyzes the relations between government and health—past, present, and future.

Special sections

The Politics and Policy of Health Reform

This section provides useful information for practitioners, stakeholders, and academics involved in national and state-level health reform legislation, regulation, implementation, and policy evaluation in the United States.

Beneath the Surface

This section analyzes and challenges empirical claims, theoretical assumptions, and taken-for-granted terms and concepts in health policy debates and literature to promote a better understanding of health policy realities.

THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

How Two Democracies Differ and Why It Matters

EDITED BY PAUL J. QUIRK

The United States and Canada share the longest border in the world, maintain one of the closest alliances, and are notably similar in many ways. Yet the two countries also have important differences, including sharply contrasting political institutions. In The United States and Canada, Paul J. Quirk has gathered a distinguished cast of contributors to present an integrated comparative examination of the political systems of the United States and Canada—with special attention to the effects of political institutions and their interaction with political values, geographic and demographic factors, and other influences.

"This volume offers a well-integrated and up-to-date set of insights on politics and policymaking in Canada and the United States, authored by binational teams of outstanding researchers. The authors take seriously the task of not only pointing out similarities and differences between the two countries, but also understanding the causal relationships that underlie those patterns, and differences that are durable and those that are subject to change. Their conclusions will help to inform and guide research in both countries in the era of Trump & Trudeau and beyond."

-R. Kent Weaver, Senior Fellow, Brookings Institution, and Professor of Public Policy and Government, Georgetown University

Paul J. Quirk is Phil Lind Chair in U.S. Politics and Representation at the University of British Columbia. He is the author of Industry Influence in Federal Regulatory Agencies, The Politics of Deregulation, and Deliberative Choices: Debating Public Policy in Congress.

MEETINGS AND RECEPTIONS

BUSINESS MEETINGS:

Many groups hold meetings and receptions at the APSA Annual Meeting, and most are open to all members. Business meetings are general member meetings that are open to all Association members unless the title clearly indicates that the meeting is for a specific group (e.g. editorial board).

APSA Organized Section: All attendees regardless of membership in a section are invited to attend section business meetings and to learn more about the work of sections.

Related Group: Independent professional groups with persistent organizational structure and minimum membership can organize a business meeting.

APSA Committee Meetings: Generally working meetings of committees are considered closed to attendees. Attendees should first consult with a committee chair about the possibility of attending.

RECEPTIONS:

All receptions are open to all APSA members unless the title clearly indicates otherwise (e.g. editorial board reception).

2020 APSA ANNUAL MEETING & EXHIBITION

SAN FRANCISCO, CA
SEPTEMBER 10-13

A long-exposure photograph of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco at night. The bridge's orange-red structure is illuminated with warm lights, and the suspension cables are visible. The bridge spans across the water, with the city lights and hills in the background. The sky is a mix of blue and white clouds.
